FAILURE?

A troubled man went to see a wise and good rabbi.

"Rabbi," he said, wringing his hands, "I am a failure. More than half the time I do not succeed in doing what I must do."

"Oh?" said the Rabbi.

"Please say something wise, Rabbi."

After much pondering the rabbi spoke as follows: "My son, I give you this wisdom. Go and look on page 930 of the New York Times Almanac for the year 1970, and you will find peace of mind."

This is what he found: The listing of the lifetime batting averages of all the greatest baseball players. Ty Cobb, the greatest slugger of all, had a lifetime average of only .367.

The man went back to the rabbi and said, "Ty Cobb - .367. That's it?"

"That's it," said the rabbi. "Ty Cobb got one hit out of every three times at bat. He failed twice as often as he succeeded. So what do you expect already?"

And the man went away pleased because he had failed only half the time!
