Volume 31, Number 25

A FATHER IS...

A father is someone who explains how things work and makes you want to be as smart as he is.

A father is someone with extra change in his pocket and extra warmth in his smile.

A father is someone who takes you places -- and makes those places special -- just because you're together.

A father is someone who doesn't cry or let you know when he's feeling bad ... but he comforts you when you cry and understands when you're feeling bad.

A father is someone who goes to work every day and takes thoughts of you with him.

A father is someone who expects an awful lot of you and thinks that trying hard is the most important thing.

A father is someone with a scratchy face and a soft heart, and someone you always look up to no matter how tall you get.

A father is someone you share a special love with forever and ever.

-Mary Dawson Hughes
