IDENTITY

In 1990, center fielder Brett Butler, left the San Francisco Giants as a free agent, joining the cross-state rivals, the Los Angeles Dodgers. When Butler returned to San Francisco for the first time as a Los Angeles Dodger, Giant fans greeted him with a mix of boos and cheers.

The cheers all turned to boos, however, when Butler hugged Los Angeles manager Tommy Lasorda. Butler said later, "It turned a page in my career. I'm a L.A. Dodger now. I'm not a Giant. That just kind of solidified it. I wanted them (the fans) to know ... I'm a Dodger."

When people become Christians, in one way or another, they need to identify with Jesus in the sight of all who know them. Jesus said that in this life we will either confess Him or deny Him and you remember the outcome (Matthew 10:32-33).

Someone has said, "There are no secret disciples. Either the secrecy will destroy the discipleship or the discipleship will destroy the secrecy." With whom do you identify?

R. Medlin

Many of you have indicated that you have had some issues with receiving messages via the Phone Tree. The Phone Tree was updated a few months ago and following are some things you need to check on your end to ensure successful delivery of these messages:
1. Check to see how long of a message your device will hold.
2. Check to see if your mailbox is full preventing it from taking anymore messages.
3. Check to make sure your device will pick up after no more than 5 rings.
4. Check to make sure we have your correct phone number. Thank you.

There are two pair of hand trucks that belong to the church that are now missing from the building. They are both yellow in color and need to be returned immediately. Thank you.
